DIRECTOR'S LETTER

To our Frye Community,

I'm pleased to share our 2021 Annual Report with you, reflecting the final full year of outgoing Director/CEO Joseph Rosa's tenure. I stepped into the role of Interim Director upon his departure in March of 2022 and am so grateful for the many ways his five years of leadership paved a smooth road forward for the Frye. On his behalf, I'm proud to share with you a selection of the museum's accomplishments, all in service of achieving our mission to provide a rich experience across exhibitions, programs, and community engagement.

In our fast-paced culture, it is easy to forget the climate of 2021—navigating our first tentative steps out of quarantine and towards a new “normal” while contending with the unknowns of the Covid-19 pandemic still very much a daily reality. We were thrilled to reopen the museum's doors to the public in February, and the careful attention paid to the safety and health of our patrons and staff alike is a testament to the flexibility, professionalism, and dedication of our full team, from Operations and Security to Exhibition Design. It was—and continues to be—an honor to provide an accessible space for much-needed community rebuilding and creative processing.

I'm especially proud to note that, despite numerous pandemic setbacks, we didn't cancel a single project and brought off a 2021 exhibition program that was a true manifestation of our commitment to showcasing local and global talent. From the tour de force of revered (then) local interdisciplinary artist Anastacia-Reneé to rising hometown stars like Anthony White and Ko Kirk Yamahira in Recent Acquisitions in Contemporary Art; from some of the art world's biggest names in Black Refractions: Highlights from The Studio Museum in Harlem to our own survey of the internationally renowned Omaskêko Cree artist Duane Linklater—these exhibitions invited us into dialogues about race and mental health, displacement and colonialism, beauty and loss—urgent topics that reinforce the enduring importance of cultural exchange. We remain grateful to all our exhibiting artists for their trust and collaboration. Access to exhibitions like these should not be dependent on your bank account or zip code, and we are enormously proud to be Seattle's only free art museum.

Lastly, I extend my heartfelt thanks to everyone in our Frye community—from first-time visitors to long-haul members, donors, and all our community partners. We look forward to deepening our ties in the years to come.

Warmly,

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS/YEAR IN PICTURES

After 310 days closed due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Frye was thrilled to reopen our doors to the public on February 11, 2021—just 3 days past marking our 69th anniversary as Seattle’s only free art museum.

In celebration of our fall exhibitions, the Frye welcomed guests of all ages to our free Community Day featuring hands-on creative engagement—from art making to cooking demonstrations and beyond.

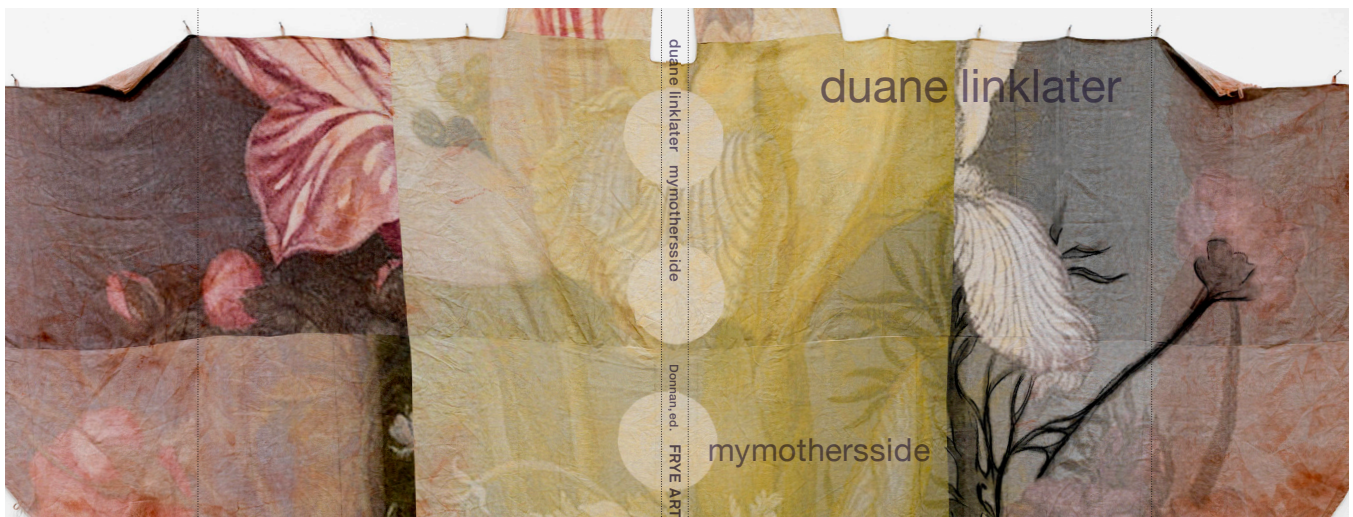

Presented in recognition of the tenth anniversary of the Frye’s unique Creative Aging programs for people living with dementia and their caregivers, Art on the Mind (November 14, 2020–April 3, 2022) showcased artworks and testimonials from past program participants.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS/YEAR IN PICTURES

We were honored to reopen featuring the work of esteemed poet and interdisciplinary artist Anastacia-Renéé. The multimedia installation (Don't be Absurd) Alice in Parts incorporated a diverse slate of public programs: a choreographic response by On the Boards Artist-in-Residence Sadiqua Iman, a series of virtual poetry readings, a virtual tour from the artist herself, and more.

Duane Linklater: mymothersside launched FAM/books, a series of accessibly priced first monographs on select emerging and mid-career contemporary artists exhibiting at the Frye.
